

Institute of Rural Management (IRM) has a special concern for the distressed and downtrodden, especially in the times of natural calamities and step forward to support them in any way we can. While the world is struggling to fight an invisible enemy; IRM foresees the real enemy, i.e. hunger. Starvation is more lethal than the virus and has the propensity to kill the marginalized segments especially children and women, well before Covid-19 strikes. During these difficult times, this deprived lot is facing the naked reality of malnutrition and food shortage as a result of losing their livelihoods. This underprivileged population has lost their dreams and hopes which would cost dearly to our shared future of a prosperous Pakistan.
